

Accommodation and living-in-Australia guide

If Orchard Tech provides or arranges your accommodation, the company safety manual applies to it. On arrival, you should be shown how to leave in a fire, where to meet outside, what address to give emergency services, and who to contact about a property problem.

- Keep the exit route clear and report a smoke alarm that does not work.
- Report unsafe electrical fittings, a door that will not lock, faulty plumbing or other safety problems promptly.
- Ask for help if the building is too crowded, cannot be kept reasonably cool or lacks working essential facilities.
- Call 000 in an emergency and follow the instructions explained for the property.

Ask for the actual house arrangements and private maintenance contact for your accommodation. This public guide does not set house rules, rent, charges or deductions. PALM workers should also read the relevant part of their handbook and approved Offer of Employment.
